Design Edit.

Roselind Wilson has stepped up for the latest design edit, curating pieces that inject character, drama and elegance into bedroom settings. Ros comments, "We are delighted to soon be participating in the inaugural Holiday House London, an interior design exhibition with proceeds benefitting the Breast Cancer Research Foundation®. The exhibition takes place 9 – 10 November and we will be designing a bedroom scheme for one of the show houses on Hamilton Terrace, St Johns Wood. We've included some of our favourite pieces here that complement a bedroom scheme and ones that we've incorporated into the design of our scheme." ## BALZAC COLLECTION BY TOM FAULKNER ▶

I love the contrast of finishes of this exquisite collection, polished or aged bronze juxtaposed with matt dark bronze or charcoal. The Balzac side table creates a striking focal point in a bedroom scheme with the coffee table being equally resplendent. The sharp, angular lines create a multi-dimensional item that is both playful and profound. These factors complement the understated luxury and raw elegance of our interior scheme. ❖ tomfaulkner.co.uk

◀ THE PIERA LAMP, SIGNATURE COLLECTION BY HEATHFIELD & CO

The crisp white of the Alabaster offset by a bronze collar makes this one of my favourite pieces within the collection. I love the contemporary take on the use of natural materials to realise a clean, uncluttered design. The organic beauty of the design fits perfectly in a classic or contemporary bedroom design and can be set against an array of textures to enhance its natural patterning. ❖ heathfield.co.uk

DOOR HANDLE COLLECTION BY BONNEMAZOU-CAMBUS ▶

This collection adds a fresh burst of fun and quirkiness to a project. I adore the completely contemporary design and utterly refreshing take on ironmongery. Colours and finishes can be adapted or a lock or key hole added for a more bespoke twist. The versatility in design is invigorating and I can envision this piece in a modern guest bedroom or fun children's playroom. We're excited to be working with this distinctive brand and have definitely flagged them as 'one to watch'. ❖ bonnemazou-cambus.fr
